

This Week in Health Tech

HISstalk's 5 Top Stories in 60 Seconds

September 3, 2025

#1 Predoc Raises $30 Million

What Happened:

Predoc announces $30 million in seed and Series A funding.

Why It Matters:

The combined investments will help the company further develop its AI-powered health information management solutions and scale beyond its current roster of 35 customers.

#2 Abridge Reassures Customers

What Happened:

Abridge reassures customers after Epic's AI scribe announcement.

Why It Matters:

The fact that AI scribe vendor Abridge felt it necessary to reassure its hospital customers in the wake of Epic's AI product announcements highlights Epic's market power, even in areas like healthcare AI that are still in their relative infancy.

#3 OpenAI Wants to Build Healthcare Apps

What Happened:

OpenAI considers building consumer-facing and enterprise healthcare apps.

Why It Matters:

The ChatGTP developer's forthcoming apps would offer providers new AI-based options for clinical triage, clinical documentation, and patient engagement.

#4 Eversana Acquires Waltz Health

What Happened:

Pharma commercialization company Eversana acquires Waltz Health.

Why It Matters:

Eversana will incorporate Waltz Health's software-powered drug marketplaces with its prescription routing and affordability solutions.

#5 Alignmt AI Announces Seed Funding

What Happened:

Alignmt AI announces a $6.5 million seed funding round.

Why It Matters:

The investment will help the startup further scale its healthcare AI governance and risk management products.

What's Your Take?

Follow for more weekly news recaps.

Read HlStalk for details and breaking news.

Brought to you by Medicomp Systems, which supports independent health tech journalism.

